

Baikal Teal

(Anas formosa)

Status: Least Concern, but threatened by habitat loss and disease

Habitat: Lakes, rivers, coasts, and rice-fields

Description: 39-43 cm

Female: Brown, with white spot at base of bill and stripe from throat to below the eye

Male: Cream and green patches on the face surrounded by white and black.

Vertical white bands separate grey sides from the dull rosy-brown breast and the black under tail

